Switching off for Earth Hour 2010

8.30pm 27 March 2010

As part of its ongoing commitment to the environment and adopting more environmentally friendly practices, the Royal Agricultural Society of NSW is again taking part in Earth Hour.

On Saturday 27 March at 8.30pm almost all lights will be turned out in the RAS Administration building and across the Sydney Showground site.

With the Sydney Royal Easter Show only days away and event preparations in full-swing, some lights will need to remain on to ensure the safety and security of the hundreds of people busily setting up for Australia's largest Show.

Earth Hour is a fantastic initiative that draws attention to the issue of climate change and global warming, the RAS is proud to be involved.
