Celebrating 200 Years of Wine Excellence

Royal Agricultural Society of NSW

Thank you from the President

As we conclude a remarkable year celebrating 200 years of the Sydney Royal Wine Show, it is my great pleasure, on behalf of the Royal Agricultural Society of NSW, to congratulate all exhibitors and award recipients whose achievements are recognised in this catalogue.

When wine was first included in the Agricultural Society of NSW Show in 1826, a gold medal was offered for the best sample of Colonial Wine. Two centuries later, the Sydney Royal Wine Show stands as Australia's oldest wine show and remains committed to the same fundamental purpose; encouraging excellence, recognising outstanding quality and supporting the people who continue to advance Australian wine.

Our bicentenary has provided an opportunity not only to celebrate this extraordinary history, but also to reflect on how far the Australian wine industry has come. Over 200 years, varieties, regions, techniques and consumer tastes have evolved considerably. Throughout that change, the Sydney Royal Wine Show has continued to evolve with the industry while maintaining the integrity and independence that underpin a Sydney Royal medal.

This year's competition has been a fitting celebration of that legacy. I congratulate every exhibitor who put their wine forward for assessment and particularly those whose wines have been awarded medals and trophies. Your achievements represent the quality, skill and innovation that characterise Australian wine, and I encourage you to proudly share your Sydney Royal success with your customers and communities.

The bicentenary has also been an opportunity to bring the industry together, including through Sydney Royal 200: The Wine Show Conversation, providing a forum to reflect on the Show's history and consider the role wine shows will play in supporting and developing the industry into the future.

Importantly, the contribution of the Sydney Royal Wine Show extends beyond the competition itself. Through our wine scholarships, industry engagement and opportunities to connect medal-winning producers with consumers, the RAS remains committed to investing back into the Australian wine community and supporting its next generation.

I extend my sincere thanks to our Wine Committee, judges, stewards, volunteers, sponsors and RAS staff whose expertise and dedication have made both this year's competition and our 200-year celebrations possible.

Most importantly, thank you to the generations of Australian wine producers who have supported this competition over two centuries. While 2026 marks the conclusion of an extraordinary bicentenary, it also marks the beginning of the Sydney Royal Wine Show's next chapter.

Congratulations to all our 2026 exhibitors and award winners. I look forward to seeing the proud tradition of Australian wine excellence continue for generations to come.

SYDNEY ROYAL WINE SCHOLARSHIPS

For more than a decade, the Sydney Royal Wine Scholarships have been cultivating the next generation of Australia's wine leaders. Fully funded by the RAS Wine Committee through proceeds from the sale of excess Sydney Royal Wine Show stock, these scholarships reinvest directly back into the industry — strengthening capability, deepening expertise and supporting talent at every stage of their careers.

What began in 2013 with a single study scholarship has grown into a nationally recognised program supporting both students and wine professionals across viticulture, winemaking, sensory assessment, education, service and more. The Scholarships have a value of up to $6,000 for full-time study or $3,000 for part-time study. The program includes two key pathways:

- The Sydney Royal Wine Study Scholarship — supporting students undertaking wine-related tertiary study, from viticulture and oenology to marketing, lab technology, hospitality and journalism.
- The Sydney Royal Wine Professional Development Scholarship — supporting industry professionals to advance their technical and assessment skills through courses such as the AWRI's Advanced Wine Assessment Course, WSET, CMS and other accredited programs.

Since inception, 63 scholars have been awarded over $275,000 in funding, representing diverse regions, disciplines and career stages — united by a shared commitment to advancing Australian wine. Many scholars have gone on to shape wineries, vineyards, laboratories and judging panels across the country. The past intake saw 7 scholarships totalling $33,325 be awarded.

Whether you are building foundational skills or seeking to elevate your professional expertise, the Sydney Royal Wine Scholarships are designed to accelerate growth and open doors to invaluable industry networks.

Applications for the next intake open mid-2026.

Tasmanian cool-climate Syrah achieves a historic win as the Sydney Royal Wine Show celebrates 200 years

Australia's finest wines have been recognised today at the nation's oldest wine show, as the Royal Agricultural Society of NSW celebrates the winners of its 2026 Sydney Royal Wine Show. A special milestone year, marking 200 years since wine was first included in the 1826 Agricultural Society of NSW Show.

Critiqued by some of the most experienced and diverse wine judging palates in the country, over 1,500 wines were assessed blindly over the week to determine the best of the best. The top accolade for Best Wine of Show went to Tasmania's Pooley Wines for its 2024 Pooley Syrah, with Sydney Royal Judges praising the medium-bodied wine for its balance and savoury fruit flavours.

The family-run Coal River winery took home three major trophies with its 2024 Syrah, also claiming the Best Red and Best Shiraz trophies, and making history as the first Tasmanian Shiraz to achieve this feat in categories traditionally dominated by renowned Shiraz-producing regions such as Barossa Valley & McLaren Vale.

For Chair of Judges, Mike De Iuliis, cool climate shiraz wines, like the Pooley Wines Syrah, were the highlight of this year's show, with an impressive range of regions and producers represented.

"Shiraz is such a versatile variety - it was wonderful to see such fine examples across so many growing regions, from South Australia and Victoria to WA and Tasmania", De Iuliis said.

"It really demonstrates that these amazing wines can come from anywhere in this country. It was particularly exciting to see the best Shiraz of the show come from the Coal River Valley in Tasmania - a great reminder that cooler-climate sites are producing some exciting Shiraz in Australia right now."

An additional trophy winner in this category was Yarra Valley's Oakridge Wine's 2024 864 Close Planted Block Syrah, which was awarded the newly renamed Matthew Jukes Memorial International Judges Trophy, in memory of Matthew Jukes, who served as this year's Sydney Royal Wine Show international guest judge, and passed away suddenly on the 6th August 2026.

Returning to the judging panel 20 years after his first Sydney Royal judging appearance, Jukes said the Yarra Valley Syrah "stood out as an exemplary style of a single vineyard site expressing all of its elemental powers into the bottle. I absolutely adored this wine."

Jukes also noted the high-definition focus that came into the classes when judging this year, remarking "There has been more of a sense of place than ever before. The progress that Australia makes year on year is astonishing."

Reflecting on the broader outcomes of the competition, Chair of Judges Mike De Iuliis said "Diversity was seen across the board this year with an incredible spread of trophy and medal winners from wine regions and producers across Australia. A fantastic result, particularly as we celebrate 200 years of the Sydney Royal Wine Show and wine judging in Australia. In 1826, the RAS offered one small medal for the best sample of wine, 200 years later we are judging more than 1500 high-quality wines from wineries right across the country."

De Iuliis also remarked that the Other White Varietal class was another standout, with some really exciting wines coming through.

"The other white varietal class was a surprising highlight for this year's show as well. Winemakers appear to be honing their craft in these varietals, and it is starting to show. We saw some excellent examples of Vermentino, Chenin Blanc, and Albariño. The vines making these other whites are also likely improving with age and vineyards are looking at them as a more worthy investment.”

This year’s Best Other White Varietal went to the Hunter Valley’s First Creek Wines 2025 Limited Release Vermentino, however across the competition, the class has seen an impressive improvement in quality over the past three years, with 49 medals awarded in 2026 including 5 gold. First Creek also took home Best Single Vineyard for its 2017 Single Vineyard Oakey Creek Semillon.

“For the value wines this year, consumers can’t go past Aldi’s 2026 Freya and Jules Riesling, and the 2026 Jacob’s Creek Le Petite Rosé for less than $15. Both have been well recognised across the Australian show circuit and have taken home a trophy for Best Riesling and Best Rosé this year. And our Best Value Wine of Show was given to the 2025 Whipbird GSM - which comes in at $22.”

Another standout this year included McLaren Vale’s Willunga 100, which has now won back-to-back trophies for Best Grenache and Best Small Producer, this year thanks to the 2025 Willunga 100 Blind Spot Vineyard Blewitt Springs Grenache. In 2025, the premium winery took home the same trophies with its 2024 Willunga 100 Trott Vineyard Blewitt Springs Grenache.

In celebration of the local state, Best NSW Wine of Show was taken home by the Hunter Valley’s De Bortoli wines for their 2022 Deen De Bortoli Botrytis Semillon. To be eligible for Best NSW Wine, a product must have won a gold medal at 2 other NSW wine shows. Impressively, the 2022 De Bortoli Botrytis Semillon won a trophy at both the 2025 NSW Wine Awards and the 2025 Riverina Show.

The styles of wine showcased this year continue to track the arc of drinking trends in Australia. From famous brands with a long pedigree of show success, to new entrants and value offerings, the top wines demonstrate the exceptional quality of Australian wine currently being produced.

Overall, this year’s Sydney Royal Wine Show presented 105 gold medals to winemakers from across Australia, with about 58.5% of all 1537 wines entered being recognised with a gold, silver, or bronze medal.

Sydney Royal medals are awarded only to products that meet or exceed rigorous industry benchmarks, allowing producers to compare their products against recognised industry standards. For consumers, the Sydney Royal medal serves as a trusted mark of quality, offering confidence that the product has been assessed and endorsed by some of the industry’s most respected experts.

“I highly recommend consumers explore the trophy-winning wines and be open to viewing the gold, silver and bronze medal winners. This is a sure way of knowing a wine is of the highest quality and has been recognised as one of the best in Australia”, said De Iuliis.

“I also encourage anyone interested in tasting these wines to come along to the RAS’ Grape, Grain & Graze Festival on September 19 for a chance to try all our trophy, gold and silver medal-winning wines for themselves. Over 1000 consumers attend in what is a wonderful showcase of excellence”

About Australia's oldest wine show:

In 1826, during its fourth annual agricultural exhibition, the Agricultural Society of NSW offered a small gold medal for the best sample of colonial wine - not less than 10 gallons, certified on oath to be from the vintage of that year. By 1828, there were four classes for wine, despite the colony only having a handful of serious growers. The show system had started small but gained momentum. By 1901, a purpose-built exhibition space called 'the wine kiosk' was being built at the Agricultural Society of NSW's home at Moore Park, giving exhibitors the chance to showcase their wines.

Whilst these initial competitions were small by modern standards, they planted a seed that would grow into the most prestigious wine show in Australia. Now, 200 years later, the Sydney Royal Wine Show is the oldest continuously run wine competition in Australia, each year drawing on average 2000 entries, from hundreds of Australian wine producers, covering every major wine region in the country. A gold medal from the Sydney Royal Wine Show is one of the most coveted marks of excellence in Australian wine.

CLASS 8 - Semillon, 2024 and older

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A cracking Class of semillon with a wonderful display of age and style. The tops wines showed precision, extract, balance and finesse with great concentration of flavour. The lesser wines showed too much development, reduction or dilution on the mid palate. All the gold medals are drinking well now.

CLASS 12 - Chardonnay, 2024

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A wonderful line up of a strong vintage of a wonderful variety in Australia. A breadth of style was enjoyed with great concentration of fruit and extract. The top wines were brilliantly balanced from fruit, oak, acidity and texture. The lesser wines were unbalanced, too sweet or too much oak.

CLASS 21 - Tempranillo, 2025 and older

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A challenging Class to judge, with many interpretations of the variety on display. While tempranillo can be bright and juicy; there is also a place for wines of intensity, structure and tannin richness. Some of the non-award winners showing out of balance oak, lack of fruit ripeness and greener tannin profiles.

CLASS 23 - Grenache, 2024 and older

JUDGES' COMMENTS: Diverse Class showing different styles of grenache that looked bright and fresh with their age. The top wines had bright fruit, layers of complexity and wonderful tannin balance. The lesser wines suffered from a lack of fruit freshness, too much oak or too hot and extracted.

CLASS 26 - Shiraz, 2024

JUDGES' COMMENTS: An important Class for our show and some fantastic examples of the best of Australian shiraz. Unfortunately, some wines showed premature drying out and over extraction, with some tweaky tannin and under fruited wines. Our favourite wines were hedonistic, with warm hearts and great balance between the innate perfume of the variety and the complex and dark fruit, with careful winemaking and well thought out oak.

CLASS 32 - Cabernet Sauvignon, 2024

JUDGES' COMMENTS: A wonderful Class to judge with incredible wines. The top wines showed effortless balance, expressive fruit, layered and long tannin with fine acidity and well-handled oak. They were a joy to taste and there was a lot of discussion around the top wines on the table for reunification. The lesser wines showed advanced development or unbalanced fruit, or hard acidity or grippy tannins.
